

The Yale Law Journal

Student Symposium

Friday, March 3 | 12:00 – 6:00 pm

Location: The Presidents' Room at the Schwarzman Center

Eleven of Volume 132's Notes and Comments authors will be speaking on panels about Law & The Family, Interpretation in the Roberts Court, Election Law and Movement Lawyering, and The Law of Health and Care. Milo Hudson (Editor-in-Chief, Volume 132) and Jessica Huang (Executive Editor for Notes and Comments, Volume 132) will be moderating. All Yale Law School community members are invited, and we especially encourage students interested in learning about legal scholarship and the work of the Journal to attend.

INTRODUCTION & LUNCH

12:00 – 12:45 pm

LAW & THE FAMILY

12:45 – 1:30 pm

Jessica Quinter '23 & Caroline Markowitz '23,
Judicial Bypass and Parental Rights After Dobbs
Rubin Danberg Biggs '23 & Patrick Holland '22,
Familial-Status Discrimination: A New Frontier in Fair Housing Act Litigation

INTERPRETATION IN THE ROBERTS COURT

1:45 – 2:30 pm

Russell Bogue '23, Statutory Structure
Danny Li '22, Antisubordinating the Second Amendment
Sam Heavenrich '22, *The Neglected Port Preference
Clause and the Jones Act*

BREAK

2:30 – 3:15 pm

Food and drink will be served.

ELECTION LAW & MOVEMENT LAWYERING

3:15 – 4:00 pm

Greg Briker '24, *The Anatomy of Social Movement
Litigation*

David Herman '23, *Reviving the Prophylactic VRA:
Section 3, Purcell, and the New Vote Denial*

THE LAW OF HEALTH & CARE

4:15 – 5:00 pm

Laura Hallas '24, COVID-19's New Cosmopolitanism? Structural Considerations for the Proposed Pandemic Treaty

Kyle Bigley '22, *Between Public and Private: Care
Workers, Fissuring, and Labor Law*

RECEPTION

5:00 – 6:00 pm

Food and drink will be served.