GRANTS AND FELLOWSHIPS
Funding for International Research - Summer Recess Deadline: April 27, 2020

The Streicker Fund for Student Research provides support for academic projects requiring international travel. Examples include field research, in-country interviews with relevant stakeholders, and archival research. Research trips are typically conducted during extended academic recesses (e.g., summer or winter break).

The Oscar M. Ruebhausen Fund for student domestic research projects provides support for students to engage in domestic research and pursue academic inquiry and discourse. This is part of the larger Oscar M. Ruebhausen Fund.

Check the YLS website for information regarding other opportunities, including support for student research and activities, post-graduate fellowship opportunities and the international law career guide. The Yale University student grants databases also a great resource for both Yale-specific and external funding sources.

For writing and publishing opportunities, check out the YLS Student Activities Resources.
