When Data Crosses Borders: Data Governance and US-China Relations

Karen Hao

Poynter Fellow

Samm Sacks

Paul Tsai China Center
Senior Fellow

Governments around the world are increasingly concerned about foreign access to their citizens' data. Can data have a nationality and carry a passport? Who owns data, who controls its movement, and who should be allowed access? Regulation of transnational data flows has become one of the most contested issues in US-China relations. Join us for a discussion on this pressing topic with Karen Hao, China tech and society reporter for the Wall Street Journal, and Samm Sacks, Senior Fellow at Yale Law School's Paul Tsai China Center.
