Application for Academic Research Travel Support from the Streicker Fund for Student Research

Students may use this application form for travel support through the Streicker Fund (international travel only). Proposal should be based on academic research/writing projects for credit and conducted under YLS faculty supervision.

For application deadlines, please consult our website.

The Streicker Fund for Student Research provides support for academic projects requiring international travel. Examples include field research, in-country interviews with relevant stakeholders, and archival research. Research trips may be conducted only during the Winter or Spring academic recesses. There is a preference for projects involving “immersion in a non-US legal culture.”

Please be sure to read the Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) Sheet pertaining to international academic research before submitting an application.

Applicants must contact Mindy Roseman in advance of submitting your application. This is to review the process as well as the award of funds. You are responsible for ensuring that your application is complete; incomplete applications will not be considered. A completed application must be submitted as a single PDF to streicker.scholar@yale.edu by October 23, 2025.

REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Your award notification will set forth particular reporting requirements. Awards are contingent on a written report after completion of your proposed project or research travel, and submission of final written product/paper.

Please note the continuing obligation to report other sources of funding received for the project that is the subject of this application.

REIMBURSEMENTS

Awards are typically made on a reimbursement basis. In other words, you will be reimbursed for approved expenses upon timely submission of original receipts.
