ANNOUNCEMENT

The Collaboration for Research Integrity and Transparency at Yale is pleased to announce that applications are currently being accepted for the first year of Small Awards to support research that advances CRIT’s mission to improve the integrity and transparency of biomedical and clinical research. Applications will be considered for projects involving secondary analysis of publicly-available clinical trial data.

Applications will be accepted until March 1, 2017 at 1:00 p.m. Details of the application requirements follow.
Small Awards Application

Begin Accepting Applications Date: 01/07/2017
Deadline Date (EST Time Zone): 3/1/2017 1:00 p.m.

Description
The CRIT Small Awards Program supports research that advances CRIT's mission to improve the integrity and transparency of biomedical and clinical research.

Maximum Grant Award: Up to three grants of a maximum of $10,000 will be awarded
Deadline: The deadline for submissions is March 1, 2017.

Eligibility and Selection Criteria
Applicants will be accepted from graduate students, post-doctoral fellows, and faculty at higher education institutions in the United States, as well as researchers at nonprofit organizations in the United States.
Applications must propose secondary analysis of publicly-available clinical trial data, such as those made available through the YODA Project, NHBLI's BioLINCC, Clinical Study Data Request, the SOAR Initiative, or a similar clinical trial data archive.

Application Requirements
Project Description (maximum 2 pages, single-spaced)
The project description should describe the background and justification of your proposed work, specific research objectives, proposed methods (including specification of the clinical trial data that will be requested for use and the archive from which it will be obtained), and the project’s broader relevance and implications.
References (no limit)
Budget and Budget Justification (1 page)
NIH-formatted Biosketch for Key Personnel (5 pages) or other suitable short curriculum vitae
Letter(s) of Support (if applicable)

Application Procedure
Applications (including project description and supporting documents) will be submitted to CRIT.admin@yale.edu

Additional Information
Awardees will be required to present their completed research project at a CRIT seminar or webinar.
