To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

New Haven, CT | 06520 US

Got this as a forward?

Share this email:

more.

This talk was co-sponsored by the Center for Global Legal Challenges and the Information Society Project.

Doing so, Donohue referenced several court decisions, who focused their reasonableness evaluation on a multitude doctrine to meet the challenges of the digital world and protect people from unreasonable search and seizure. In Mr. Mohan talked briefly about the Administration’s most prominent recent international agreements—the Iranian nuclear deal and the Paris Climate.

Problematic for U.S. foreign relations or the development of international law; why such a trend may be occurring;

Each participant in the off-the-record roundtable prepared a short paper on one of four topics: Article II treaties, treaties of State.

Professor Schmitt’s talk was co-sponsored by Information Society Project and TechSoc.

JD from Yale Law School.

Government on uncovering threats to national security. He detailed Google’s efforts to publish more data about information, and how companies can balance a strong desire for privacy with a desire to cooperate with the...