This reading group will explore the Syrian Civil War in order to give students an opportunity to study, research, and participate in current legal debates over international law and advanced foreign relations and international law.