Comments
Reclaiming the Right to Food as a Normative Response to the Global Food Crisis
Smita Narula........................................................................................................3

Moving from Food Crisis to Food Sovereignty
Annie Shattuck & Eric Holt-Giménez.................................................................22

Human Rights and the Struggle Against Hunger: Laws, Institutions, and Instruments in the Fight to Realize the Right to Adequate Food
Flavio Luiz Schieck Valente & Ana María Suárez Franco.................................37

The Global Food Crisis: Law, Policy, and the Elusive Quest for Justice
Carmen G. Gonzalez ..........................................................................................65

Making Rural Services Work for Women and the Poor: An Institutional Analysis of Five Districts in Ethiopia
Marc J. Cohen & Mamusha Lemma.................................................................84

The Promise and Challenges of Food Sovereignty Policies in Latin America
Saulo Araújo ......................................................................................................99

From Threat to Opportunity? Problems with the Idea of a “Code of Conduct” for Land Grabbing
Saturnino Borras Jr. & Jennifer Franco ............................................................115

Book Reviews
The Global Food Crisis, edited by Jennifer Clapp & Marc J. Cohen ..................133
Food Rebellions!, by Eric Holt-Giménez & Raj Patel with Annie Shattuck ........142
Famine, by Cormac Ó Gráda .............................................................................149
Food Sovereignty, by Michael Windfuhr & Jennie Jonsén ..............................156
Beginning with this Volume, the Yale Human Rights & Development Law Journal (YHRDLJ) will be published twice a year. Issue 1 appears in print, Issue 2 appears exclusively online. The views expressed herein are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect those of the YHRDLJ staff or of Yale University and its affiliated institutions.

Subscriptions and Special Issues: Each annual print volume costs US$25. Payment by check or money order only, payable to the Yale Human Rights & Development Law Journal, should be submitted to the address below before February of the publication year to ensure prompt shipment. Subscriptions are automatically renewed unless the YHRDLJ receives a request for cancellation. Unless a claim for non-receipt of an issue is made within one year after the mailing date, the issue will not be supplied free of charge. All requests concerning subscriptions and special issues should be addressed to the Subscriptions Department, Yale Human Rights & Development Law Journal, at the address below. Back issues for Volumes 1 to 12 are available from the YHRDLJ, at the address below, for US$30 plus postage.

Submissions: YHRDLJ invites unsolicited submissions of original Articles or Notes from the Field. At this time, the Journal does not publish unsolicited student notes or book reviews. All works should be submitted in .doc format and sent by email to yhrdlj@yale.edu, with the subject line marked “Submission – Title of your work.” All submissions must be accompanied by an abstract that summarizes the argument or content of the piece in 100-250 words. Please include this abstract both in your piece and in the body of your submission email message. Submissions outside the Journal’s thematic scope will not be considered. Please see our website http://www.law.yale.edu/academics/YHRDLJ.htm, for details on the appropriate length and content of Articles and Notes from the Field submissions. Sources consulted must be clearly footnoted according to The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation.

Copyright: Copyright by the Yale Human Rights & Development Law Journal. Articles and other pieces herein may be duplicated for classroom use, provided that (1) each copy is distributed at or below cost, (2) the author and the Yale Human Rights & Development Law Journal are identified, (3) proper notice of copyright is affixed to each copy, and (4) the Board of the Yale Human Rights & Development Law Journal grants permission for the use.

Production: YHRDLJ is printed by Joe Christensen, Inc., in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Mailing Address: P.O. Box 208215, New Haven, Connecticut 06520-8215.
Street/Courier Address: 127 Wall Street, New Haven, Connecticut 06511.
Subscription Information: (203) 432-7652
Facsimile: (203) 432-2592
Electronic Mail: yhrdlj@yale.edu
Internet: http://www.law.yale.edu/academics/YHRDLJ.htm
ISSN: 1548-2496